B. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

DESCRIPTION:

The U.S. Embassy in Addis Ababa / PEPFAR Ethiopia Coordination Office (PECO) is pleased to announce an open Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) to solicit applications that implement Community-led Monitoring (CLM) activities for its HIV/AIDS programs.

The CLM program is funded through the U.S. President’s Emergency Plan for AIDS Relief (PEPFAR). One of PEPFAR’s goals in Ethiopia is to support efforts to achieve HIV epidemic control through the implementation of evidence-based interventions in HIV prevention, care, and treatment and ultimately, save lives. Through the PEPFAR Coordination Office, the U.S. Embassy in Addis Ababa administers this Community Grants Program and is currently seeking proposals from registered local Community-based organizations and other civil society groups, networks of key populations (KP), people living with HIV (PLHIV), women-led civil society organizations and other groups affected by HIV, or community entities that have expertise in gathering quantitative and qualitative data about HIV services, and whose functions covers HIV programs.

The CLM activity is key to ensuring the availability of, access to, and delivery of quality HIV prevention, care, and treatment services. The activity will empower clients and communities to seek out information, increase health literacy, expand engagement with the health service, support demand creation for high-quality HIV services, and demand accountability from the health system to improve the quality of these services.
The CLM activity will collect data using standardized tools. Quantitative and qualitative data collected through CLM will be synthesized, analyzed, and used to gain insights from communities/beneficiaries about problems, barriers, and potential solutions to HIV services delivery at the facility, community, sub-national and national levels. Results from CLM will be presented and analyzed in collaboration between community representatives, service providers, facility managers and relevant implementing partners to ensure dialogue and help all sides identify service delivery gaps and design solutions collaboratively to improve service delivery, continuity of treatment, and retention in care.

PEPFAR-supported community-led monitoring programs must include an explicit focus on key populations or affected populations. This requirement will be met by “Who” is doing the CLM (e.g., are KP or affected populations leaders’ part of CLM design and processes?), “where” is KP focused CLM being conducted (e.g., are all GO, NGO, KP-Specific and private health facilities that serve KP included?) and “what” KP specific indicators being measured (e.g., competency of health services providers, availability of KP commodities, Availability, Accessibility, acceptability, and affordability of services).

Additional focus areas that the community-led monitoring will prioritize in COP22 include pediatrics clinical cascade and treatment continuity (addressing the programmatic gaps).

OBJECTIVE:

The collective objective of Community-Led Monitoring is to develop a routine and systematic approach to gather input from recipients of HIV services by community-based organizations, civil society groups, networks of key populations (KP), people living with HIV (PLHIV), and other community groups affected by HIV.

CLM should be utilized to develop understanding of the enablers and barriers to quality HIV services in a manner that is community-driven and collaborative, productive, respectful, and translate into action and change.

The program seeks to increase support and encourage KP, and other community groups affected by HIV to undertake similar activities on their own in the future.

The maximum award for a single CLM project is $25,000. The implementation period for CLM projects is one year, anticipated to be October 1st, 2022, to September 30th, 2023.

Successful CLM projects will fulfill the below principles/requirements:

- Monitoring data should reflect an ‘added value’ and not duplicate the collection of routine data already available to PEPFAR through MER, SIMS, or other Quality Assurance approaches. An example of ‘added value’ monitoring data includes information from beneficiaries about their experience with the health facility or community service providers, information about barriers and enablers to access quality services, and factors that increase satisfaction continuity of services etc.
• CLM mechanisms must be action oriented. That is, it is not enough to simply collect patient reports or describe their experiences, but there must be an associated feedback loop and follow-up process with the health facility/community and advocacy for service quality improvement.

• CLM mechanisms must be routine to ensure follow up and continuous improvement for sustainability.

C. ELIGIBILITY INFORMATION

1. Eligible Applicants: - CLM funds are meant for activities that are community driven and serve the community at large where they are being funded.

Eligible applicants include registered independent and local/community-based organizations, women-led civil society organizations, PLHIV associations, faith-based organizations, and other community-based groups and/or networks whose functions covers HIV programs. However, PEPFAR implementing partners who currently work on service delivery at the health facility level, government institutions and multilateral bodies are not eligible to apply.

2. Other Eligibility Requirements: - To be eligible to receive an award, all organizations must have an active Unique Entity Identifier (UEI) number issued via www.SAM.gov and a current valid registration with the System for Award Management (SAM) on www.SAM.gov.
